

Sarah Syrstad
Supervisor

Meet Sarah Syrstad

Sarah is a supervisor at Hall, Kistler who loves to help our clients succeed and grow. She's always ready to dig into the "nitty-gritty" with clients or zoom out to view the bigger picture. She started with our company in 2005 and is a strong leader for our Client Accounting Services department, where she is certified in multiple industry programs and systems that our clients use. At home, Sarah's got a knack for DIY projects and enjoys large-scale construction projects from building furniture to houses. When she's got some spare time, Sarah also likes to strap on her cleats for an intramural soccer game. But it's her love of tortilla chips that most of us can probably relate. She says she could eat them "every day with some salsa, with some guac, in a car or on a walk."

Fun Facts

- I could eat tortilla chips every day (with some salsa, with some guac, in a car or on a walk).
- I still play soccer (intramurals).
- Enjoy building things (furniture/houses/DIY).
